If an employee fails to give the required notice the employer may withhold from any monies due to the employee on termination under this award or the NES, an amount not exceeding the amount the employee would have been paid under this award in respect of the period of notice required by this clause less any period of notice actually given by the employee.

12.3 Job search entitlement

Where an employee is transferred to lower paid duties by reason of redundancy, the same period of notice must be given as the employee would have been entitled to if the employment had been terminated and the employer may, at the employer's option, make payment instead of an amount equal to the difference between the former ordinary time rate of pay and the ordinary time rate of pay for the number of weeks of notice still owing.

13.3 Employee leaving during notice period

An employee given notice of termination in circumstances of redundancy may terminate their employment during the period of notice. The employee is entitled to receive the benefits and payments they would have received under this clause had they remained in employment until the expiry of the notice, but is not entitled to payment instead of notice.

13.4 Job search entitlement

- (a) An employee given notice of termination in circumstances of redundancy must be allowed up to one day's time off without loss of pay during each week of notice for the purpose of seeking other employment.
- (b) If the employee has been allowed paid leave for more than one day during the notice period for the purpose of seeking other employment, the employee must, at the request of the employer, produce proof of attendance at an interview or they will not be entitled to payment for the time absent. For this purpose a statutory declaration is sufficient.
- (c) This entitlement applies instead of clause 12.3.

23.2 Method of working ordinary hours

Ordinary hours of work may be worked by either of the following methods.

- (i) operates three or less vehicles at a particular yard, depot or garage;

- (iii) operates in such a manner that it is necessary for particular employees to work five days of each week Monday to Friday inclusive, and these operations would be prejudiced by the requirement that rostered days off be taken on any day or all of the days of the week; or
- (iv) has reached a written agreement with the employee concerned or with a majority of employees in the workplace or part of it which requires the employee(s) to work ordinary hours over five days, Monday to Friday inclusive, of no more than 7 hours and 36 minutes continuously (except for meal breaks).

24. Start times

A regular starting time for each employee is to be fixed by the employer. Where an employer desires to vary or change the regular starting time of an employee the employer must give one week's notice of such variation or change to the employee concerned.

25.3 Any shift which commences on or after 11.00 pm on a Sunday will be deemed to be part of the Monday shift and paid accordingly.

25.4 A rest break of 20 minutes will be allowed on each shift. The rest break on any shift will be at the time fixed by the employer and will not be varied except in an emergency and with the consent of the employee. However, an employee is not required to work more than five and a half hours without a rest break.

25.5 Change to existing shift rosters

An employer must give 48 hours' notice to an employee of any change of shift. If the employer fails to give such notice overtime rates will be paid for work done outside the ordinary shift hours within 48 hours of the time notified of the change.

25.6 Transfer of day worker to or from shiftwork

- (a) Day workers, who have had at least 10 hours off duty immediately before commencing or after ceasing shiftwork may be transferred to or from shiftwork on 48 hours notice. If this notice is not provided, the employee will be paid overtime rates for all work done outside their previous ordinary working hours within 48 hours of the time notified of the change.
- (b) Where it is necessary to transfer a day worker to replace a shiftworker who fails to report for duty or who, for any reason is unable to continue duties, this clause will not apply, and the position will be deemed to be covered by clause 25.5.

25.7 Variation of rosters

The method of working shifts and the time of commencing and finishing shifts may in any case be varied by agreement between the employer and the majority of employees in the workplace or part of it to suit the circumstances of the establishment.

- (c) Shiftworkers who work on an afternoon or night shift which does not continue for at least five consecutive afternoons or nights will be paid at the rate of time and a half for the first three hours and double time after that for each shift.

25.10 Rate when shift extends beyond midnight

Despite anything in this clause, each shift will be paid for at the rate applicable to the day on which the major portion of the shift is worked.

 - (ii) commencing on or before the time prescribed by such legislation for the termination of a summer time period;

Transport (Cash in Transit) Award 2010

will be deemed to be the number of hours represented by the difference between the time recorded by the clock at the beginning of the shift and the time so recorded at the end, the time of the clock in each case to be set to the time fixed pursuant to the relevant State or Territory legislation.

- (b) In this clause the expression standard time and summer time have the same meanings as prescribed by the relevant State or Territory legislation.

25.13 Shiftwork overtime

For all time worked outside or in excess of the ordinary shift hours or on a shift other than rostered shift, shiftworkers will be paid at time and a half for the first two hours and double time after that except in cases where the time is worked:

- (a) by arrangement between employees themselves;
- (b) for the purpose of effecting the customary rotation of shifts; or
- (c) where it is due to the fact that the relief employee does not come on duty at the proper time. However, when less than eight hours notice has been given to the employer by the relief employee that the relief employee will be absent from work and the employee who the relief employee should relieve is not relieved, the unrelieved employee will be paid at the rate of time and a half for the first three hours and double time after that for all time on duty after the unrelieved employee's ordinary shift has finished.

25.13(d) varied by [PR529987 ppc 08Nov12]

Nothing contained in this clause limits the right of an employer to enforce punctual and regular attendance at work.

25.14 Shiftworkers' meal breaks

- (a) All shiftworkers while working on day, afternoon or night shift are entitled to a paid meal break of 20 minutes.
- (b) Unless the period of overtime is less than one and a half hours, an employee before starting overtime after working ordinary hours is allowed a meal break of 20 minutes which is paid for at ordinary rates. An employer and employee may agree to any variation of this provision to meet the circumstances of the work at hand, however the employer is not required to make any payment in respect of any time allowed in excess of 20 minutes.

26. Meal breaks

26.1 Regular meal break

- (a) Each employee is allowed an unpaid meal break of regular duration of between 40 minutes and one hour.
- (b) This meal break must commence no earlier than three and a half hours and no later than five and a half hours after the employee's fixed starting time of ordinary hours of work. However, where it is reasonable and practicable the meal break may be arranged to be in balance with the ordinary hours of work.

Transport (Cash in Transit) Award 2010

- (c) If a meal break is not allowed to an employee, the time worked after five and a half hours after the fixed starting time until the break is allowed, will be paid at the rate of ordinary time, the payment to be in addition to any payment due in respect of a weekly or casual wage.
- (d) The obligation to pay ordinary time under this clause in addition to weekly or other wages and overtime under any other clause is not cumulative, and the employee in cases coming within this clause is entitled only to the higher payment.

26.2 Break inside armoured vehicle

- (a) Where an employee is required to remain inside an armoured vehicle at the direction of their employer for security reasons for part of the meal break, the employee will be paid at the rate of time and a half for the time spent inside the vehicle.
- (b) The duration of the meal break must be one hour to enable all members of the vehicle's crew to have some portion of their meal break outside the vehicle if they so desire.

27. Sunday work

An employee who works on Sunday will be paid at the rate of double time with a minimum payment of four hours pay. Where work continues from Saturday to Sunday the minimum payment is not cumulative. Work done on a Sunday stands alone.

28. Overtime

28.1 Payment for overtime

All work done outside ordinary hours will be paid at the rate of time and a half for the first two hours and double time after that. This double time rate will continue until the completion of the overtime work. Except as otherwise provided in this clause, in computing overtime each day's work will stand alone.

28.2 Time off instead of payment for overtime

- (a) An employee may elect, with the consent of the employer, to take time off instead of payment for overtime at a time or times agreed with the employer. Overtime taken as time off during ordinary time hours will be taken at the ordinary time rate, that is an hour for each hour worked.
- (b) If requested by an employee, an employer will provide payment for overtime at the overtime rate for any overtime worked under clause 28.2(a) where time off has not been taken within four weeks of accrual.

28.3 Rest period after overtime

- (a) When overtime work is necessary it will, wherever reasonably practicable, be so arranged that employees have at least eight consecutive hours off duty between the work of successive days.

Transport (Cash in Transit) Award 2010

- (b) An employee who works so much overtime between the termination of their ordinary work on one day and the commencement of ordinary work on the next day, that the employee does not have at least eight consecutive hours off duty between those times, will, subject to this subclause, be released after completion of the overtime until the employee has had eight consecutive hours off duty without loss of pay for ordinary working time occurring during the absence.
- (c) If, on the instruction of the employer, an employee resumes or continues work without having had eight consecutive hours off duty, the employee will be paid at double time rates until released from duty for the period, and will then be entitled to be absent until the employee has had eight consecutive hours off duty without loss of pay for ordinary working time occurring during the absence.

28.4 Call-back

- (a) An employee recalled to work overtime after leaving the employer's yard, depot or garage (whether notified before or after leaving the yard, depot or garage) will be paid for a minimum of four hours work at the appropriate rate for the first recall, and a minimum of two hours for each subsequent recall. The employee will not be required to work the full minimum hours if the job recalled to perform is completed within a shorter period except in the case of unforeseen circumstances.
- (b) This subclause does not apply in cases where the overtime is continuous (subject to a reasonable meal break) with the completion or commencement of ordinary working time.
- (c) Overtime worked in circumstances specified in this subclause will not be regarded as overtime for the purpose of clause 28.3 where the actual time worked is less than four hours on the recall or two hours on a subsequent recall.

28.5 Saturday work

An employee required to work overtime on a Saturday will be afforded at least four hours' work, or be paid for four hours' work at the appropriate rate, except where the overtime is continuous with overtime commenced on the previous day.

28.6 Stand-by

An employee who is required to remain in readiness for work after ordinary hours, will until released be paid stand-by time at ordinary rates from the time the employee is told to remain in readiness or until the employee commences work.

28.7 Transport of employees

Where an employee after having worked overtime finishes work at a time when reasonable means of transport are not available, the employer must provide the employee with transport home, or pay the employee's current wage for the time reasonably occupied in reaching home.
