

TWU Victoria and Tasmania WOMEN'S ADVOCATE PROGRAM

The Women's Advocate Program has changed and saved lives across the world.

We know that women are five times more likely to speak to someone they know about issues they are facing at work, at home and in the community.

The TWU Women's Advocates provide a workplace response to gender-based violence at work, at home and in the community. Women's Advocate Program will empower women to be workplace and community leaders who advocate for survivors in the workplace and fight for wider change in their communities.

Women's Advocates are specially trained, easy to contact workplace representatives who - in examples from across the world - have been instrumental in creating stronger, healthier and more supportive workplaces.

But the Women's Advocate Program needs YOU!

We need Women from across Victoria and Tasmania to stand up and be leaders in their workplaces, communities and the union.
